

China Certification Group

Subject: CCC exemption letter and HS code of mandatory CCC certifications

To whom It may concern,

Manufacturers are struggling to define if their product will need CCC or not. In order to decide this, CNCA published the announcement No. 18 of 2016, like is below:

http://www.cnca.gov.cn/xxgk/ggxx/2016/201607/t20160728_52008.shtml

From this website, customers can download attached HS code list. HS code is also attached. Customer can check if their HS code is in this list, then customer should apply for CCC certification before export to China. Otherwise CCC is not required.

CCC exemption letter are only applicable for below situations:

- Required for research, product testing
- Parts required for the assessment technology of production line
- Directly required for maintenance purpose product for the end user
- Factory production lines / equipment / complete production line supporting the necessary components (excluding office supplies)
- Only for commercial exhibition, but does not sell products
- Returned back to import country after temporary import for any purpose (including exhibits)
- Imported components which are used for end product which are intended for export
- Imported materials which are used for end product which are intended for export

Should you have any further questions please contact us as following:

CCG Testing & Certification B.V.

Attn Mrs Lan Chen

Lan.chen@ccg-certification.com

Yours sincerely,

CCG Testing & Certification B.V.

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read 'Lan Chen', is written over a light blue horizontal line.

Mrs Lan Chen